

The Upper Room Receives $593 Donation From The Goddard School

Donation will aid The Upper Room in providing support for Derry area families

Derry, NH, June 24, 2014 – Today, The Upper Room, a Family Resource Center, announces a $593 donation from The Goddard School in Derry, New Hampshire. In May of 2014, The Goddard School held a Family Fun Expo, for which The Upper Room was chosen as the charity beneficiary. Goddard School Families, prospective families, and the Derry area community were invited to the event. The Family Fun Expo showcased many vendors, and featured live entertainment highlighting local programs such as martial arts classes, soccer demos, and baton twirling.

The Upper Room is a non-profit organization in Derry, NH that provides educational programs and services which strengthen individuals and families in the community. The donated funds were raised through vendor booth rentals, an art silent auction, a 50/50 raffle, and other raffles held during the event.

“The Goddard School was happy to partner with The Upper Room, a Family Resource Center, during our Annual Family Fun Expo on May 18,” stated Samantha Baldini, owner of The Goddard School in Derry, NH. “Every year we host this event to bring vendors and families in the community together. We are thrilled that this year we were able to raise $593 for The Upper Room and the important work they do to support families in our community. We look forward to working with them again in the future.”

“The Upper Room would like to extend our thanks to The Goddard School for this generous donation,” remarked Kimberly Bavaro, Executive Director of The Upper Room. “These monies will go a long way in providing important support for the children and families we serve. This donation will help fill funding gaps in programs such as Greater Derry Family Outreach, our in-home parenting education and counseling program; and Community Service Learning Opportunities, which provides community service opportunities for youth.”
