

The Upper Room Receives Donation from Chester Charitable Foundation

Contribution will support the needs of children and families in Southern New Hampshire

Derry, NH, November 24, 2014 – For the third year in a row, The Chester Charitable Foundation has bequeathed The Upper Room, a Family Resource Center a donation in the amount of $1,000.00. The donation will be put towards The Upper Room’s many programs and services, such as its in-home counseling, Adolescent Wellness Program, parenting classes, and food pantry. The Upper Room is one of several organizations to which the Chester Charitable Foundation donated funds raised through the annual Wason Pond Pounder event.

“The Upper Room does a lot of great work in the Greater Derry community,” stated Dave Chisholm, Vice President of the Chester Charitable Foundation. “Each board member of our organization was given the opportunity to choose one local non-profit for which a $1,000 donation would be provided. I selected The Upper Room because I believe there are individuals and families that need help to improve their lives, and The Upper Room provides this care.”

“We are so grateful for the Chester Charitable Foundation’s continued support,” said Kimberly Bavaro, Executive Director of The Upper Room. “This donation will go a long way towards helping us assist the many individuals seeking our services every day.”
